

41st Annual Southeastern States Marching Band Festival October 2nd, 2010

Make plans now to attend. This is to be one of the "greatest years ever!" Hosted by the Charles Henderson High School Band Foundation, the Southeastern States Marching Band Festival is one of the longest running Marching Band Festivals in the state of Alabama. The 41st annual festival continues to be a "true festival" atmosphere, with an experienced panel of adjudicators.

As always, the nationally acclaimed, Troy University "Sound of the South" Marching Band will be performing in exhibition.

Come enjoy Veteran's Stadium, one of the greatest and most "marching band" friendly venues in the southeast. The marching surface, seating and amenities are without comparison. Even now, the stadium area is receiving renovations and beautification for this fall's season.

Our director's hospitality suite, located at the stadium club level, provides a "bird's eye" view of all the performances with the tons of food, refreshments and air-conditioning. Escape to the viewing tables while helping yourself to our complimentary smorgasbord, or keep up with the day's college football while you relax on our couches in front of our large screen televisions.

Our hosts, the Charles Henderson High School Band Foundation and the John M. Long School of Music, will stop at nothing to see that everyone is accommodated. With 40 years of knowledge and experience, our hosts are ready and willing to serve.

Located on the beautiful campus of Troy University in Troy, Alabama, our Festival offers all bands the opportunity to be judged by a highly qualified and respected judging panel, without being "in competition" with other bands.

The Southeastern States Marching Festival, is without a doubt, the "Friendliest Festival in the South". Come and be a part of this great event - there's not a bad seat in the stadium.
